WHY HALO

Clinical expertise. Personal care.

Halo Cranial Prosthetics was founded by Tiffany Johnson, a registered nurse with a master's degree in public health and certification as a Cranial Prosthesis Specialist. She is also a breast cancer survivor who lost her hair during her own treatment, so she understands this journey as both a nurse and a patient. She plans your hair care around your treatment, with the same discretion you expect from your medical team.

Coverage varies by plan, and we are glad to help you ask the right questions.
